Yankees 90 Miles From Versailles

Reported Threatening All German Troops South of Seine

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 11 —(AP)—American forces which had knifed eastward of Le Mans to within a little more than 90 miles from the Paris suburb of Versailles, without meeting serious German opposition, were reported turning northward today in a scythe-like sweep threatening all the Germans south of the Seine. In 21 hours ended at midnight Wednesday the American captured 4,322 Germans in France.

British troops, supporting a Canadian-Polish thrust below Caen which appeared to be shaping a huge pocket in conjunction with the American drive, stormed into Thury-Harcourt, German stronghold on the Orne.

Field dispatches said the Americans, driving at least 10 miles beyond Le Mans, still had met no solid enemy resistance, but today's allied communique announced the destruction of 15 German tanks by aircraft somewhere in the area.

(The German communique said the American thrust had turned northward from Le Mans with strong air support, and the Paris radio reported the Americans had burst past Alencon, 30 miles north of Le Mans. The Germans said the Americans had run into heavy fighting in that direction.

Three Alternatives

(Alencon, 97 miles west of Versailles, is just 42 miles southeast of the Canadian-tipped wedge driven to within five miles of Falaise.)

There were no official confirmation at supreme headquarters of various reports of striking progress past Le Mans, 110 miles southwest of Paris, which was captured two days ago, but it was obvious that the Paris-pointed spearhead there had the alternatives of swinging northward toward the English channel short of Paris, swinging south of the capital in an encircling move, or splitting and passing on both sides of it.

A swing northward of the scythe would threaten the rear of the Germans' stubbornly held swivel position below Caen and approximately 20 German divisions

Food Shortages in Midwestern States May Follow Strike

Omaha, Aug. 11—(AP)—Many Nebraska communities were reported today to be using reserve stocks of groceries and meats as the six-day old midwest truck strike tied up deliveries, and in Omaha an estimated 100 soldiers were picking up war supplies from idle truck terminals for shipment by rail.

There was no indication whether acute food shortages would develop before the trucks are returned to service, expected sometime this week when the government is scheduled to seize lines in eight midwest states. Attorney General Biddle said in Seattle that "the government may take over any moment."

The area affected embraced Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, North and South Dakota, and northwestern Wisconsin. The army estimated 25,000 were idle.

In addition a sympathy walkout ended truck shipments out of Tulsa, Okla. An operators' spokesman estimated 3,000 were out there but the AFL-Teamsters union figured it at only about 300.

A threat to harvest operations in Nebraska and western Idaho, now in full swing, was relieved when operators of petroleum transports agreed to resume operations, which they had suspended as a safety measure although their drivers are not involved in the dispute.

The strike began Saturday about two weeks after the War Labor Board referred to the president the operators' "non-compliance" with a WLB approved contract for higher wages. When the strike started operators announced they were shutting down and refusing shipments "until the issue is definitely and finally settled."

ON OTHER LABOR FRONTS

The number of workers idle because of labor disputes dropped to between 55,000 and 58,000 as employes at five Paterson, N. J., area plants of the Wright Aeronautical corporated voted last night to return to work today. Company and CIO-United Auto Workers representatives agreed to arbitrate grievances.

The company said 7,000 were off the job; the union placed the number at 20,000.

Approximately 1,200 employes of the Illinois ordnance plant near Carbondale were back on the job after an eight-day stoppage. The walkout of organized warehousemen and truckers (AFL) began in a closed shop dispute with the company.

At Dubuque, Ia., however approximately 1,400 employes of three woodworking plants went on strike and union leaders said it was in protest against the delay

Air Force Guide is Banned to Soldiers

New York, Aug. 11—(AP)—The "Official Guide to the Army Air Force" has been currently banned from sale at post exchanges because it carries a pen portrait of President Roosevelt captioned "Commander in chief of the Army and Navy." The Herald Tribune today quoted Maj. Gen. Alexander Surles, army bureau of public relations chief, as confirming this.

The report says 525,000 copies of the book, regarded as one of the finest guides produced by the Army, bear the president's picture, and that none of these can be sold at post exchanges.

An edition of 600,000 copies without the president's portrait has been distributed to soldiers, the Herald Tribune says, and the ban on the other editions was invoked because of possible violation of title five of the soldiers' vote law.

Green Urges Workers to "Stay on War Job"

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Illinois war workers were urged today by Governor Green to "stay on the job" to fill the Navy's increasing production needs.

"While the changing requirements of modern warfare have caused reduction or cancellation of some contracts, the Navy's overall requirements are growing larger," the governor's statement said.

"The last six months of this year are expected to show a greater production of Navy supplies and munitions than the first six months," he said he was informed by the Navy.

"I urge every Navy production worker in our state to stay on the job. Back up our Navy—prepare it to pour its cumulative might on Japan."

In Bad Way

On the British Front in France, Aug. 11—(AP)—"The great bulk of the German forces in northwest Europe are in a bad way. We are 'round behind them in many places and it is possible that some of them may not get away'", Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared tonight.

The supreme commander of all allied ground troops in France, in a message to the allied armies he commands under Gen. Eisenhower, said:

"Today all is well. x x x

"Our armies are moving relentlessly eastward into France.

"Many hundreds of towns and villages have been liberated.

"These are momentous days and complete victory lies ahead and certain—so long as we do not relax".

New Turn In Pacific War Is Apparent

U. S. Course May Now Be Directed Toward Tokyo Itself

BY J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

The Pacific war reached a new turning today, launched auspiciously by the first allied offensive bombing of the Philippines, more B-29 attacks on harried Japan, liberation of Guam and by a historic Roosevelt-MacArthur-Nimitz meeting which may have set the U. S. course toward Tokyo itself.

The trip-hammer blows rained upon them from every quarter impelled the Japanese to begin work on a plan "for strengthening of domestic defense". The Japanese cabinet decided to outline such a plan by Aug. 15.

Superfortresses flying out of China yesterday bombed Nagasaki on Japan's home island of Kyushu, where planes are made. Another group of the sky giants based in Southeast Asia inflicted damage on the big oil installations at Palembang on Sumatra. Of the Nagasaki raid, Tokyo acknowledged that "the manner in which the enemy carried out his attacks was extremely fierce." The terse war department announcement said that the raids were "medium-sized."

Two Forts Downed

Tokyo asserted that at least two of the Palembang raiders were downed. No claim was made of any being destroyed over Nagasaki.

Davao, chief Japanese base on Mindanao, southernmost of the Philippines islands, was bombed for the first time since Corregidor fell May 6, 1942, in three raids beginning Aug. 7. Gen. MacArthur's raiders, presumably flying from newly-won New Guinea area bases, caught Davao with its

Poles Drive Close to Pesara Today

Rome, Aug. 11—(AP)—Polish troops, launching an infantry and tank offensive along a six-mile front on the Adriatic coast, have captured high ground overlooking the Cesano valley and have sent patrols across the Cesano river after a two-mile initial advance, allied headquarters said today. Towns of Scapezzano, Monterado and Corinaldo were seized.

The drive to the south bank of the Cesano put the Poles about half way between the captured port of Ancona and the next major town of Pesara, where the outposts of the Adriatic end of the Gothic line are believed to begin.

Three hundred prisoners were taken at the beginning of the offensive and the Germans suffered further heavy casualties in attempting five unsuccessful counterattacks.

Heavy continuous rain fell along the entire Fifth army front and thunderstorms were common on most of the Eighth army front with the result that activity was limited to artillery fire and patrol actions.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's headquarters said the situation in Florence remains the same. There is little activity apart from sniping.

Close Cooperation in Pacific Theater Planned at Parley

Washington, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Establishment of closest cooperation between General Douglas MacArthur and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz in preparation for coming offensives in the western Pacific presumably was one of President Roosevelt's objectives in going to Hawaii.

The fight to split Japan's island empire has reached the point where Nimitz, Pacific area commander, and MacArthur, Southwest Pacific chief, will not much longer work in separate spheres.

The lines of their swift offensives, headed up now in western New Guinea and in Guam and Saipan, are approaching the point of convergence in the Philippines.

In a similar situation in the Solomon islands a year ago MacArthur met Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., and by order of the joint chiefs of staff himself assumed strategic direction of the successful Solomons-New Guinea drives on Rabaul.

Both Topflight Leaders

Assignment of their respective roles to Nimitz and MacArthur, being on a vaster scale and finally determining positions of leadership, was a delicate task which might well call for the prestige of the president himself. MacArthur and Nimitz are both topflight leaders and the general has not hesitated in the past to indicate his displeasure when affairs were not going to suit him.

Speculation has been that MacArthur would be in supreme command of a New Guinea-based assault on the Philippines and that Guam would be the jumping off place for a westward drive by Nimitz.

Once in the Philippines MacArthur would have command of the doubtlessly prolonged land cam-

Brownell Plots Action With Governor Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11—(AP)—Herbert Brownell, Jr., Republican national chairman, laid before Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today a broad plan of action for his presidential campaign, based upon Brownell's personal survey of conditions in the midwest.

Dewey's 40-year-old campaign manager, whose conferences with state leaders are designed to coordinate the national and state campaigns, has said that detailed strategy would be disclosed only as it unfolded.

The discussions which Dewey and Brownell began last night were continued today.

Brownell brought an optimistic picture of conditions in midwestern states after his 10-day visit to Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. Representatives of 10 other states, many of which Brownell claimed would go Republican on the basis of public opinion polls, attended his session in Chicago a week ago.

Giants Blast Sumatra and Kyushu City

Three Superfortresses Unaccounted for in Terrific Attack

Washington, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Two forces of mighty B-29 Superfortresses lambasted centers of Japanese industrial strength 3,500 miles apart in raids yesterday that left three of the aerial giants unaccounted for and a fourth down in friendly territory.

At least three enemy craft were destroyed in carrying out the missions under cover of darkness.

The 20th Bombing Command announced this data today in providing additional details on the raids—the fourth major strike of the Boeing behemoths — with bombing results reported "good" both at Palembang in southern Sumatra and at Nagasaki on the Japanese island of Kyushu.

The Palembang attack, officially described as "the longest bombing mission ever undertaken," was directed against the Pladjoe refinery, whence comes a major portion of Nippon's high octane gasoline.

Over Japanese home territory itself, the bombers spent 90 minutes, plastering that 12th largest Nipponese city.

Anti-aircraft opposition at Pladjoe was described as "weak to moderate" and at Nagasaki as "meager to moderate and inaccurate."

Fighter opposition similarly was weak to moderate at Pladjoe and "weak" over Sumatra, where B-29 crews reported they downed one fighter.

At least two others were shot down by fighter aircraft attached to a forward base in China, where one of the Superforts made a forced landing, only to be pounced upon and strafed by four Japanese ships.

Previous raids resulted in the loss of six B-29's, although all planes returned from the July 7 attack on the Sasebo naval base.

Text of Communique

The text of the 20th air force communique No. 8:

"Superfortresses of the 20th Bomber Command struck at two centers of Japanese industrial strength yesterday (August 10) in night missions against widely separated targets.

Longest Mission Ever

"In the longest bombing mission ever undertaken, a medium force of B-29 aircraft attacked the Pladjoe refinery at Palembang in southern Sumatra, from bases in the Southeast Asia command.

"Pladjoe is the largest Japanese source of oil in the Far East and is a major Japanese supplier of high-octane motor fuels. Observed bombing results were reported to be good. Several crews observed large fires and explosions at the target. Anti-aircraft opposition was weak to moderate, and enemy fighter opposition was weak to moderate.

"Visibility varied, with cloud formations encountered.

"Simultaneously, from bases in China, a medium force attacked for one and one half hours industrial targets at Nagasaki, on the Japanese mainland island of Kyushu. Here again the observed bombing results were good. Poor visibility prevented some elements of the mission from obtaining highly accurate visual observation of bombing results. Anti-aircraft was meagre to moderate and inaccurate. Fighter opposition was weak. Our crews claim one enemy aircraft destroyed. One plane made an emergency landing at a forward base in China and was strafed after landing by four enemy fighters, of which at least two were shot down by fighter aircraft attached to that base.

Targets 3,500 Miles Apart

"Three of our aircraft are not accounted for from this double mission".

The two actions involved targets 3,500 miles apart.

Before the war, the Pladjoe refinery at Palembang processed approximately 18,000,000 barrels of crude oil a year. Much of its efficiency was destroyed before the Japanese moved in but it was believed to have been producing near the pre-war level—until yesterday.

Nagasaki is twelfth in size

Reds Apply Pincers Upon East Prussia, Narew is Crossed

Russian Troops Drive Seven Miles Inside Suwalki Triangle

Moscow, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Russian armies applying a great pincers upon East Prussia swept today within 50 miles of Tilsit and Memel and threatened the southern boundary of that home of the Junkers with a plunge across the Narew river.

Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, besieging Warsaw for the 12th day, thrust a threatening army group toward East Prussia from positions northeast of the Polish capital. This group increased the menace to Warsaw, too, because it could curve to the Vistula and outflank the Polish city from the north.

Russian troops already were seven or more miles inside the Suwalki triangle, which Germany annexed to East Prussia from Poland in 1939. In the north, the Soviet army group of 37-year-old Gen. Ivan Cherniakovsky, sent bombs and artillery shells into the German province and fought bitter and repeated counterattacks at several gateways to East Prussia.

Germans Outnumbered

(In this great action, the Germans started reporting that they were greatly outnumbered. On the threat to the south of East Prussia, the official German news agency DNB said the Russians started a new offensive yesterday between Warsaw and Augustow with strong forces, which made some penetrations.)

A hundred miles or so south of Warsaw, the Russians widened the breach across the Vistula river to 32 miles and advanced doggedly to within 26 miles of Kielce. In that area the Red army stood within 75 miles of German Silesia and within 35 of Krakow, ancient capital of Poland and her fifth city.

The extermination of Germans trapped in the upper Baltic states neared its final phase. Two captured German generals said more than 30 German divisions (perhaps 500,000 or more men) would be wiped out when the Baltic drive was finished.

However, some thousands of the Germans, whose land communications were cut by a Russian plunge to the Baltic 25 miles west of Riga, still may be extricated by sea. The Red air force continued to pounce on any shipping seen moving from Baltic harbors.

Franklin Grove Man Flees Work Farm

Vandalia, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—Five prisoners escaped from the Illinois state farm at Vandalia last night and were still at large today according to state police sources.

The prisoners have been identified as William Kennay, 27, of Franklin Grove; Henry Cain, 33, of Crystal Lake; Leroy Winningham, 26, of Centralia; Dodie Easter, 23, of Cottage Hill; and John Ahlen, 19, of Jerseyville.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

While we're waiting for a clue to the mystery of the Battle of Paris (just where is that fast-moving Yank armored force which already has captured Angers and Nantes in its race for the French capital?) The Russians are providing us with another first class mystery as the battle of the Vistula swells to its climax.

The tip comes from the Germans in their announcement that the Muscovites are developing a flanking movement west of the upper Narew river, that is, along the southern border of East Prussia. When you fit this bit into the jigsaw puzzle, you see that the Red forces ostensibly—though perhaps as a ruse—are pursuing at the moment the same strategy employed by the Russian armies which met terrible disaster in East Prussia in the last war.

Back in 1914 the Russian plan for conquest of East Prussia was to advance with two armies, one to the north and the other to the south of the notorious Masurian Lake region. The northern army attacked near the Insterburg Gap, east of Konigsberg, and flung the Germans back. Then the southern army drove up against the Germans in the Allenstein sector and precipitated the historic Battle of Tannenberg in which Field Marshal von Hindenburg inflicted a great defeat on the Czarist forces.

The aging von Hindenburg had spent much of his long life studying the Masurian Lakes. He used to torture his troops with grilling maneuvers each year in this inhospitable country. Folk regarded him as daft on the subject, but

Gets His Vest

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle wanted a vest with his new double-breasted suit but his tailor said he couldn't make it under War Production Board regulations, even though the judge already owned enough material.

So the judge wrote the WPB that the extra cloth would be eaten by moths in a dresser drawer if it wasn't made into a vest and appealed "purely on a common sense basis".

The WPB said the judge could have his vest.

Navy Man Survives 31 Month Jap Hunt on Conquered Guam

Is Finally Rescued by Combatant Ship 10 Days Before Landings

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Aug. 11—(AP)—Fortune's wheel came full circle today for Chief Radioman George Ray Tweed, graying, 42-year-old Oregonian who outlasted Japanese squads remorselessly hunting him for 31 nightmare months on now-liberated Guam.

He escaped 10 days before the Americans invaded Guam July 20. His story and that of Guam's reconquest were announced almost simultaneously by the Navy yesterday.

From the day—Dec. 10, 1941—the Japanese overwhelmed a handful of Americans on the island, Tweed lived in precarious flight on the 250-square mile is-

Rail Targets Hit in Paris, Belgium

London, Aug. 11—(AP)—American heavy bombers smashed in force today at oil dumps and airfields near Paris and at rail yards in the German border city of Saarbrucken and the Alsace Lorraine cities of Strasbourg, Mulhouse and Belfort.

All the rail yards were bottlenecks for German troops which invasion headquarters reported earlier today were moving "westward" toward the French front. Railway facilities through Strasbourg, Antwerp, Brussels, Metz, Lille and Sedan was bombed during the night.

Before dawn, up to 1,000 heavy British bombers attacked oil supplies for submarines, trains and other targets while Mosquitos gave Berlin residents another restless night by plunging two-ton blockbusters into the German capital.

The latest attacks apparently were part of a rapidly shaping campaign to isolate Paris. The weather was clear and "good results" were reported.

Piper Cubs "Sort of Clay Pigeons" Say Fliers in Planes Over Lorient

In a U. S. Army Observation Plane Overlooking Lorient, France, Aug. 10—(AP)—This sullen nazi spawning ground of U-boats is dying slowly and stubbornly under a rain of shells and bombs from the besieging American Army.

A ring of American armor is squeezing the life out of the Gestapo—and naval-held undersea fortress, which lies fanned out beneath the wings of this tiny Piper Cub.

Up here in this artillery spotting plane, piloted by Capt. Charles D. Damon of Ames, Iowa, it feels quite lonesome. This is especially so when you know that a few thousand yards away are some of the most formidable flak defenses in Europe, with battery after battery of 88 mm. guns which open up on inquisitive Cubs when they get too close.

Lorient is cut off and contained, with no hope but surrender for the garrison.

The famed U-boat pens were invisible today from the air but French and Germans said the American and British bombings had failed to pierce their 16-foot layers of concrete and they were unharmed.

The little group of Cub pilots which has been leading the American armored columns spearheading into Brittany has been doing things with their observation planes which would turn their artillery-spotting instructors at Fort Sill back in the United States gray.

They are not supposed to fly over the enemy lines, but in acting as lookouts for advancing armored columns they fly over enemy territory all the time.

"We're sort of clay pigeons", explained Lt. John Maher of Colfax, Iowa. "We fly along until somebody shoots at us, and then our columns know there are Germans around".

18,000 Gallons of War-Precious 100-Octane Gasoline Burning in Kentucky

Covington, Ky., Aug. 11—(AP)—The most fantastic and potentially most dangerous fire within memory of three veteran fire chiefs burned with unabated fury today on a 20-foot-square table of earth at nearby Bromley, consuming upward of 18,000 gallons of war-precious 100-octane gasoline from refinery stores of the Standard Oil Co., of Ohio.

The gasoline represented the contents of three ten-inch pipelines leading from a destroyed pumphouse to huge 750,000 gallon tanks high on a hill 500 or more yards away.

When the lines drained, the fire would die, the chiefs agreed as 12 fire companies, two from Cincinnati, fought the flames.

A ten-by-ten foot asbestos blanket, hung across a shallow gully leading from the fire-table, proved the most effective weapon as torrents of still-burning fuel-covered water cascaded from the pumphouse floor. The blanket skimmed off the fire, permitting the fuel to run harmlessly 1,000 or more yards to the Ohio river.

Standard Oil officials were quoted as believing a spark from a motor in the pumphouse ignited a quantity of oil or gasoline.

An initial blast flared 100 or more feet into the air and broke windows in homes and stores within hundreds of feet, but left others intact.

• SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

There Are Good and Bad Ministers--The Story of Eli Illustrates Both Types

Text: I Samuel 2:27-30, 35; 4:12-18

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The lessons for the coming three weeks will deal, respectively, with the priest, the prophet, and the king in the life of Israel.

The lessons center around the lives of three men, Eli the priest, Samuel the prophet, Saul the King. Consideration of the function of one involves study of the others. There were greater and better priests than Eli, more richly endowed and deeper-seeing prophets than Samuel, nobler kings, than Saul, who began well but ended in failure and suicide.

Sometimes the functions of all three were combined in one man, as in Samuel, who was not king in name but who was actually the ruler, and who felt it very keenly when the people rejected his leadership and asked for a king.

If Eli is not the highest representative of the priestly class in Israel, in himself and in his career he offers an excellent case study of ministerial life, ideals and character, and incidentally of the tragedy of failure.

Unless it be the prophet, with his eyes full of vision, and his heart full of love, and his mind full of convictions, there is no higher type among men than the faithful priest or minister of God, sincerely and thoroughly consecrated, unselfishly serving his fellowmen. But because the place and attainment are high, there is nothing lower among men than the unfaithful priest or minister, the man who makes his position or office the occasion for his own interst or aggrandizement.

In the story of Eli both types are exemplified. Eli at first is the faithful priest, so devoted to his religious service and to his people that he falls from his seat backward, breaking his neck, when a runner brings the news that Israel has been completely defeated in battle, and that the Ark of the Lord has been taken by the Philistines. He appears in the record as a sincere well-intentioned man, but he was a failure as a father, and he allowed the priestly office to be corrupted and perverted in his sons.

The indictment of Eli is that "his sons made themselves vile and he restrained them not."

These sons of Eli were, indeed, deep-dyed rascals; sheer hypocrites who had no care for religion at all but to use it for their own ends. Fortunately there haven't been many priests or ministers like them. Even Paul kept himself under discipline lest having preached to others he should be a castaway. There have been ministerial tragedies among those who were not wise like Paul.

Some years ago these tragedies were the subject of a book issued by an atheistic group of the sort that take a perverted delight in attacking the Christian religion. The list of cases in this scandal-mongering publication seemed formidable until one realized how few they really were in comparison with the great number of ministers.

The average minister is a good man, doing his best according to his faith and his limitations. His is a divine calling, but he's human. Congregations in the main get the sort of priests or ministers that they deserve.

Get Package From Leon

Usually from three to five months are required for mail from prisoners of war in Germany to reach Polo. That, at least, is the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Donaldson, whose son, Sgt. Leon Donaldson, is a prisoner in a German camp near Vienna. Until recently, he was in a camp near Dresden.

The last letter Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson received from Leon was July 6, and the letter was dated Jan. 13, 1944. Another letter was received in Polo June 13, which is just about the same time.

From all indications, it seems that letters and packages from home have been reaching Leon, who has words only of highest praise for the Red Cross. In many of his letters he mentions this world wide organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson keep abreast of developments that might affect prisoners of war through the "Prisoners of War Bulletin", issued periodically by the American Red Cross. The last issue of the Bulletin contained a map of Germany, showing the location of the prison camps. It was with the help of the map that Leon's present location was learned.

In one issue, the Bulletin had the following to say about Stalag XVIIB, the camp in which Leon is being held: "More frequent visits to Stalag XVIIB are to be made by representatives of the protecting power (Switzerland) and delegates of the International committee, according to a recent cable from the Geneva representatives of the American Red Cross. The cable also stated that it had been originally intended by the German authorities to use Stalag XVIIB only as a temporary camp for American prisoners, and that they were soon to have been assigned to a permanent camp. Apparently, however, it is now considered a "permanent" camp for Americans, and an early improvement in conditions, the cable added, was to be expected. A large part of the American strength at Stalag XVIIB is made up of non-commissioned airmen."

Gerald Brinker of Mount Morris is in the same prison camp with him. Leon was shot down in Germany July 26, 1943.

Some of his recent letters follow:

Thursday, Aug. 12, 1943.

My Dearest Parents:

It is now about 6 o'clock in the evening. I have eaten my evening lunch. Mom and Dad, if you ever believed in the Red Cross, be sure and do it now. This is the best thing that ever was. They certainly do a lot for us boys who are prisoners of war. I might as well tell you that I was not flying with my regular crew when I went down. I was replacing a fellow on another crew when I went down. We all got out safely and unhurt. God must have been on my side this one time for sure. If I never believed in him before, I most certainly do now. I hope you were not too worried when you heard I was missing in action. Always remember that I love you very much. If you get my first letter, I have a few articles I want you to enclose: pipe tobacco, large tins; one pipe and any other things you wish. Be sure to go to the Red Cross and find out a few things before you do anything, though. Well, I haven't any more room. Tell everyone hello, and don't worry. I'll be O. K. God bless you all. Your most loving son,
LEON.

Dec. 8, 1943.

Dearest Parents:

A very Merry Christmas to you all. I wish I could send you something, but being that I cannot, I send you my best love. Don't ever forget that I am always thinking of you. I hope you have a grand Christmas dinner. Boy how I would like to be there with you. Please do not worry about me because I am feeling fine now. I hope you are keeping personal and cigaret parcels coming as often and as fast as you can. Please send "Lucky Strike" cigarettes and plenty of chocolate. One of the boys I came down with has received two parcels so far. I haven't received any mail at all as yet. Give my love to everyone and write real often. All my love.
LEON.

March 12, 1944

Dear Folks:

Just a line to let you know that I am O. K. I hope you are all getting along fine. I have received several letters from different people. I certainly appreciate it, too. I have not received any of the November or January parcels as yet. I hope you are sending all the candy and gum you possibly can. I wish if you could, you would send me a parcel of Sir Walter Raleigh tobacco and a pipe in a personal parcel. I most certainly will more than repay your kindness if you will do this. I wonder if you could tell me about the high school basketball team, too. Sorry Richard got hurt. How tall is he now? Tell everyone hello and to be good. All my love.
LEON.

Dear Parents:

First of all I want to thank you a million times for the grand Christmas parcel you sent me. I received it and the cigarette parcel yesterday. You certainly knew my brand of cigarettes. Please thank everyone who sent me something. I don't get enough letter forms to write to everyone. I certainly will appreciate it if you will keep the cigarettes coming. The home made fudge was spoiled. I sure hated that, too. Everything else was O. K. I also received a letter from Mrs. Hurd yesterday. That was the first letter I have received. I am feeling good now. The little news from home made me feel one hundred per cent better. Well, my most beloved parents, "God bless you", and I hope you are well. Just remember that I love you more than anyone in the world. Love, LEON.

In bailing out he became entangled in the plane propeller. He was killed instantly. Mrs. Bothe received a letter from Sgt. E. Reynolds telling her of the circumstances of her husband's death. THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."

"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."

"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. For nearly two years this entire industry has been working night and day producing nothing but alcohol for the government's program."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that has been."

Farewell Celebration

A large group of relatives gathered at the village park Sunday afternoon for a farewell celebration in honor of Miss Jeanette Goble ,daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Goble of DeKalb. Jeanette has donned the navy blue, and jointed the WAVES. She reports for duty August 10, at Hunter college, New York where she will receive her boot training. A scrambled dinner was served at 1 o'clock in her honor, with the tables being laden with all of the delicious foods that make a picnic dinner so good. Following the dinner the remainder of the afternoon was spent in visiting, and during the day's activities, Elmer Wise was selected by those present to make the presentation of a purse of money and a beautiful wallet on behalf of her many friends. Jeannette is very enthusiastic about becoming a member of this fine organization. In joining, she felt that she is doing her utmost in winning this war and bringing our service men back home a little quicker. She has been doing telegraphic work in DeKalb and hopes that she will be able to continue in this work with the navy. ## $100,000 Fire Guts Greenfield Square

Greenfield, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—Fire causing damage estimated by Fire Chief Orvin Johnisee at $100,000 destroyed four buildings and damaged four others on the south side of Greenfield's public square yesterday afternoon.

Wind fanned the blaze, attributed by Chief Johnisee to spontaneous combustion, through the Tendick Dry Goods store and grocery, the South Side Hardware company, the Barton restaurant and the Kroger grocery, gutting their stocks and fixtures.

Volunteers and firemen from Greenfield and nearby Carrollton and White Hall carried stock from the Hamilton Dry Goods store and the Middletown Drug store in the same block. The Green gasoline service station was damaged when a wall of the Tendick store fell on it. The drug and the Hamilton stores were slightly damaged.

A Thought for Today

I, even I, am he that comforteth you; who are thou, that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass.—Isaiah 51:12.

Yea, providently caters for the sparrow,
Be comfort to my age!

About Dory Fuller

J. Emil Smith, editor of the Illinois State Journal, Springfield, had the following article in his column on August 8, and it is so typically true of our beloved friend and neighbor, Theodore Fuller, that we reproduce it herewith:

The recent passing of Theodore W. Fuller, of Dixon, removes from official state circles, from legislative halls, from hotel lobbies during sessions, a figure who will be uniformly missed. His going also signals a chapter's end of the old school, so far as legislative advising is concerned.

Teddy Fuller was not so much an individual as he was an institution. Legislators of both parties, from every district in Illinois, knew, loved and respected the man. When Teddy told a legislator that something was thus or so, that is what it was. He never camouflaged, he never misrepresented, he never colored facts with his own opinions, nor was he ever a disciple of wishful thinking. His friends were countless. Unimpeachable in private character and practice, his honesty but reflected the man's inner soul.

Fuller's work as lobbyist—though Ted was more of an advisor than a lobbyist—down through the years usually had to do with agriculture, or related subjects. He represented Prairie Farmer, well known farm magazine. He was connected with the business end of radio station WLS.

Last year, he worked closely with A. L. Starshak, well known American Legionnaire, vice president of the Walgreen Drug Co. stores, and they made a popular, trustworthy team. Fuller helped watch measures that had to do with mercantile enterprises, but always in the background was his deep concern for the producer, whose handiwork makes possible the presence, on retail shelves of the everyday items we consume.

Tribute has been paid Teddy Fuller, but we think one of the finest was paid him here the other day by one who, knowing him intimately, remarked:

"Ted Fuller was a unique combination of uprightness and personal integrity. The only thing he knew was the truth. And, as for his legion of friends, Teddy had so many because he, himself was in turn a true friend."

Fair Enough by WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York.—In Wichita, a promoter amiably known as a nut, which he is not, has run a semi-professional game of ball in which the right-handed hitters were allowed to run to third base, if they preferred, and thence to second, and so on around. This droll innovation might cause casualties at second with runners sliding into the bag simultaneously from both directions and a double-play combination attempting to perform, but let's not go into that. A wacky idea opens up an entirely new field of thought and action and my purpose is to point out that just as we have closed our minds to these possibilities for years and years, so also have we blacked out some truths in other affairs which affect our lives.

Outlandish as it seems to propose that defensive ballplayers should have to guard against runners going against tradition and with the clock what's wrong with the idea?

And now, outrageous as most of us have come to believe it is of an employer to meddle in the affairs of a union of the employers, what's wrong with that? I know it's illegal. But is it wrong?

In the Philadelphia transportation strike, the company has been criticized almost as an accomplice of the strikers and criticized by the Transport Workers' union of the CIO, at that, because it didn't fight the strike but gave in and quit operating. The strikers were a union actually striking against the union which is infested with Communists in high places and makes life miserable for anti-Communists who are forced to join.

The CIO people are saying here that the company should have helped them to break the strike. A federal grand jury is looking into the case and inasmuch as Attorney General Biddle made a clandestine pilgrimage to the political command post of Sidney Hillman of the CIO during the Chicago convention, there is no reason to think the company or the strikers will get a fair and impartial break from the Department of Justice.

Let us assume that the company did yield easily to avoid violence in the streets. And let us assume that its deeper motive was to discredit the Transport Workers' union by showing that it couldn't control its members and therefore did not really represent them. Wouldn't you do all you could to damage a Communistic outfit?

To the first supposition, the CIO itself has given the answer many times; and its present position is a reversal of its old propaganda. Hitherto it has always insisted that factories, utilities and other "facilities," as Biddle so cleverly calls them, should never resist any strike, even by a minority, but should shut down promptly. This usually helps the union to win and the management is held responsible for violence and bloodshed caused by the strikers if it does not fold up right away.

But this time, the CIO says the management was guilty of something real bad. What it means is that the company should have helped the union out of a nasty problem within its own ranks. An American company should help Communists. Are we crazy?

Why should an employer help his enemy? Why hasn't he the same right to enjoy his enemy's pain that the enemy has to chortle over his headaches?

Enemy is the correct word in this case, although not in all relationships between employers and unions. This is a mean, tricky union, and here was the company's chance, by passive action, to strike it a blow.

After all, the employers, the stockholders, are Americans. They are badly handicapped by the laws favoring unions over all other elements of the community and this was a unique chance to harm a union, not by breaking a strike, but by submitting and encouraging the strikers.

It may be found that the company consulted strike experts. There are such people on industry's side, too, just as there are renowned experts on strike strategy on the unions' side. But again, why not?

If this is found to be the case, the company's action doubtless will be exploited by the Department of Justice in "sensational revelations." But the revelations would be sensational only because we have forgotten that the employer does have rights remaining on the books. Unions meddle in the employers' affairs. They plant spies in the shops and even in confidential office positions. They buy in as stockholders and look over the books. They demand a voice in management.

But management must not interfere in union whose books are their own business. And whoever heard of an employer demanding a voice in union management since the company unions went out?

We have been running the bases all one way. Our minds have worked that way. We have forgotten that if the capitalism and management are to survive which made it possible for this country to produce enough war material to save Russia and to arm all our allies and ourselves then capital and management must have rights too.

Record Grain Yield Excites WFA Men

Washington, Aug. 11—(AP)—Favorable feed production prospects put the War Food Administration in a position today to loosen government production brakes on hogs to encourage a larger output of pork, important cuts of which go back on rationing Sunday.

This year's big production is about 30 per cent below last year's level—a fact which will be reflected in greatly reduced supplies of pork during the next six or eight months.

The feed situation now shows signs of sharp improvement. The farm department reported yesterday that prospects indicate a corn crop of 2,929,117,000 bushels which would be one of the largest ever produced. While about 145,000,000 bushels below last year's bumper crops, the indicated production is 560,000,000 bushels greater than the average of the last ten years.

Record Wheat Crop

The corn crop will be supplemented by the largest wheat crop of record—a large portion of which could be diverted to livestock feed—and large crops of corghums, oats, and barley.

Production officials said the indicaated grain supply would sustain and increase in hog production. The only question is whether with prospects of an early end of the war in Europe, there would be a favorable market for the hogs when they reach market weight next year. Hog producers are urging a revision in government price policies which would assure them a favorable price next year.

While unsettled about the hog situation, food officials were happy over the feed outlook because of its possible effect on milk production. Largely because of drought-damaged pastures in central and eastern sections of the country, milk production in July fell below a year ago, and indications point to a deficit in August.

PLEBE

V

WHEN Ike arrived at West Point he was just another "Mr. Ducrot," "Mr. Doowhistie," or "Mr. Doowillie," names applied to unknown plebes. He found himself in a world of "sirs" where every upperclassman must be so addressed. He was put through the customary plebe catechism.

These, or a similar ritual in many changing versions, according to the times, are but specimens of what "plebe knowledge" is supposed to be.

What do plebes rank? "Sir, the Superintendent's dog, the Commandant's cat, the waiters in the Mess Hall, the Hell cats, and all the admirals in the whole blamed Navy."

What time is it? "Sir, I am deeply embarrassed and greatly humiliated that due to unforeseen circumstances over which I have no control, the inner workings and hidden mechanisms of my chronometer are in such accord with the great sidereal movement by which time is commonly reckoned, that I cannot with any degree of accuracy state the exact time, sir; but without fear of being very far off, I will state that it is so many minutes, so many seconds, and so many ticks after the Xth hour."

I do not understand! "Sir, my cranium consisting of Vermont marble, volcanic lava and African ivory, covered with a thick layer of case-hardened steel, forms an impenetrable barrier to all that seeks to impress itself upon the ashen tissues of my brain. Hence the effulgent and ostentatiously effervescent phrases just now directed and reiterated for my comprehension have failed to penetrate and permeate the somniferous forces of my atrocious intelligence. In other words, I am very, very dumb and I do not understand, sir."

One of the current questions in the catechism is, How many days, Oh Cataline? And the correct answer is, "X days and a butt, Oh noble Cataline, and may the great God in heaven speed them more quickly by the great Corporal Jupiter, and may the coming days be more joyous, but not for me, sir. May your classes be no soirees, and your sorrows negligible, and on your leave may there be some beautiful femmes, some canoes, lots of skags, full moons, and plenty of Coca Cola; hot darn—but not for me, sir!".

THE records at West Point prove that this embryo military genius was not according to the glossary of cadet slang a "bone file," trying to beat his comrades in the classroom. He was neither a "max" (top rank in studies) nor a "goat" (in lower sections of his class). He was "hivey" (quick to learn) but seemed to be satisfied to remain with the "engineers" (a cadet in upper sections in academic work). "Book larnin'" did not appeal as much to him as comradeship and activity.

An examination of the scholarship ledgers gives Cadet Eisenhower these ratings. As a "plebe" in 1912 he ranked 57th in a class of 212. In 1913 he was 81st in the ranks of 177 members. In 1914 he climbed up to 65th. He was graduated in 1915 as 61st with 164 graduates. Thus he remained huddled in the center of the upper section.

It was in military tactics, strategy, mathematics, historic campaigns, battles, that he showed deepest interest. He reveled in problems of maneuver, organization and movement of armies, the scientific rather than the academic. We find him in drill regulations getting 13.64 out of a maximum of 15—in practical military engineering getting 8.61 out of a maximum of 10. His total proportional rate was 697.04 out of a maximum 840. But all the while he was absorbing the human knowledge of soldiery and warfare, contacts and relationships with his fellowmen in which he excelled.

STRONG disciplinarian that he later became, tempered by kindness and a high sense of justice and loyalty, young Ike chafed under the rigid discipline of routine.

These reactions make an interesting study in the "Skin Sheets," or "Quill Book," in the records at West Point. As a "beast," or a plebe, in 1911, we find him: "Late to target formation 7:05; absent at 8 a. m. drill formation; Sunday overshoes not arranged as prescribed at retreat; late at chapel; room in disorder afternoon inspection; late at guard mounting; tarnished brasses at inspection; shelves of clothes-press dusty; chair not against table at 8 a. m. inspection."

There were other, similar demerits in later years.

Simple as these "delinquencies" may seem, they are rigidly enforced in military academies. Here, for four years, youth is severely trained in rules and regulations. The slightest infraction is subject to punishment. Soldiers in the making are forged on the anvil of discipline.

Once Ike was barred from the dance hall for 30 days for dancing ragtime.

The dignity and pomp of waltzes and two-steps did not appeal to this young man from the plains of Kansas. He could do them in a most gallant manner if the occasion required, but he much preferred to whoop it up in syncopated rhythm to the beating time of stamping feet and clapping hands, advance guards of the jive and hepcats which were to follow in the next generation. His courtesy with an "Army Brat" (daughter or son of an Army officer) was Chesterfieldian, and with a "Drag" (young lady) on his arm he could compete with an English lord, but his inherent fascination was that of the breezy westerner, the spirit of the "wide open spaces."

NEXT: Cadet.

Elizabeth Lowe— Becomes Bride of Ewald Metzger

An attractive mid-summer wedding was that of Miss Elizabeth Lowe, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Lowe, and Ewald Metzger, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Metzger of Rochelle at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon July 30.

The nuptials were solemnized in the First Methodist church at Potomac with the Rev. Honn officiating. Relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom witnessed the ceremony, which took place before an altar of palms, candelabra and gladioli.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Louise Seymoure of Colfax, Ill., sang, "I Promise You," "Sweet Mystery of Life," and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. J. S. Smith played the processional Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, and the recessional, Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white summer satin, with bodice fashioned with sweetheart neckline, full length lace insets and long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with small white ostrich tips and she carried white rose buds and gardenias. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Donna Hammer of Waynesville, wore a yellow net over yellow taffeta, with matching fingertip veil held in place by small yellow ostrich tips. Her flowers were talisman roses. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Lewis Duncan of Cerro Gordo, and Miss Louise Olson of Wapella, each wore orchid net over orchid taffeta with matching head pieces, and carried talisman roses.

Lorenz Metzger of Rochelle attended his brother as best man. Nestor Metzger and William Yeakel of Waynesville were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was attractively decorated with white tapers in crystal holders and the three tiered wedding cake was topped with a minature bride and groom.

Mrs. Metzger, who for the past two years has taught home economics in the Waynesville high school, is a graduate of the Potomac high school, and the University of Illinois with the class of 1942.

Mr. Metzger, who served as athletic director at Forrest, Ill., high school the past year, is a graduate of Mission, S. D., high school, and Northern Illinois Teachers' college at DeKalb. Two years ago he enlisted in the United States Navy, and has since received a medical discharge.

Upon their return from South Dakota, the couple will reside in Forrest, where Mr. Metzger will again teach.

Former Polo Girl and Army Officer Say Nuptial Vows

A pretty Rockford nurse, formerly of Polo, Miss Marie Eloise Ports, and a young army officer, Lt. Edward C. Hagaman, son of the Glen Hagamans, 607 North Rockton avenue, Rockford, repeated their nuptial vows in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Christian Union. The Rev. Richard Kuch heard the couple's vows, and Marie was given in marriage by her father, Otho Ports of Polo.

The bride wore a sheer white ninon dress fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt with sleeves pointed at the wrist, and her tulle fingertip veile was fastened with ostrich plumes. Her colonial bouquet was of pink roses and white daisies.

The bride's sister, Miss Carolyn Ports, came from her home in Springfield to be maid of honor, and Miss "Colly" Little, Marie's roommate in the Rockford Memorial hospital supervisor's home, was bridesmaid. Carolyn wore a yellow ninon gown with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt, and yellow plumes in her hair. "Colly's" blue ninon dress was fashioned like Carolyn's and she wore blue ostrich tips in her hair. Both attendants carried colonial bouquets of pink roses and wore strands of pearls.

Pfc. James Severson, who is a student at the University of Illinois school of medicine in Chicago, served as best man and Mrs. Dale Mellen and Miss Mary Lawrence ushered. The church altar was decorated with candelabra and bouquets of white gladiolus. Mrs. Peter West was nuptial organist. Miss Wilma Schars, who is an x-ray technician at Rockford hospital, sang "Because" and "O Promise Me."

The bride's mother wore black sheer with white accessories and Mrs. Hagaman wore navy blue with white. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of mixed flowers. A reception for 100 guests in the church parlors followed the ceremony, and Mrs. Mellen and Mrs. Lowell Davis and Miss Lawrence, classmates of the bride, assisted. The bride's table was centered with a bouquet of mixed flowers and a three-tiered wedding cake.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's uncle and aunt, r. and Mrs. Carl Gatz, her grandmother, Mrs. Janet Garman and her grandfather, James C. Ports, all of Polo. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ports and daughter, Marilyn, came from Dixon for the wedding.

The newlyweds left Saturday for Morgansfield, Ky., where they will make their home. Mrs. Hagaman wore a gold jersey dress trimmed with black and black accessories for traveling. Lt. Hagaman is stationed with the army infantry at Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

The bride was graduated from Polo Community high school and received her diploma from the Rockford Memorial hospital school of nursing in June, 1943. For the past year, she has been assistant operating room supervisor. She is a member of the American Red Cross, the Third District Nurses' association, and the Rockford hospital Alumnae association.

Lt. Hagaman was graduated from Rockford high school in 1939, and was a captain in R. O. T. C. in his senior year. He was studying at the University of Illinois when he entered the army and was a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, a national honorary fraternity. After taking his basic training he returned to the Illinois campus, where he continued his studies until he was sent to officer candidate school at Fort Benning, Ga., where he received his commission in June.

Graduated Nurses to be Recruited

Chicago, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Illinois must recruit 681 graduate nurses to meet its quota for the armed forces for the next six months, the War Manpower Commission announced today.

The Illinois quota for the army and navy will be approximately one-third of the 2043 student nurses expected to graduate in the state this year, the WMC said.

Madeleine McConnell, chairman of the state committee for procurement and assignment of nurses, WMC, said all graduate nurses would be classified either as available for military service or as essential in their present position. She said Illinois exceeded by 10 its quota of 481 nurses for the armed forces for the first half of 1944.

New York, Aug. 11—(AP)—Purchasers turned to selected rail and industrial leaders in today's stock market and while the recent low priced motor and utility sprinters were active at intervals, the mapjority failed to get anywhere in particular.
Investors reinstated some of their sold-out holdinngs of pivotals on the belief that European war still had some distance to go and that by the time the nazis collapse reconversion plans at home may be pretty well in handfl. Transfers were around 1,000,000 shares.
American Water Works managedto edge into new top ground for the year. Ahead most of the session were Sana Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Radio Corp., Westinghouse, Du Jont, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber, Oliver Farm, Douglas Aircraft United Aircraft and Johns Manville.
Bonds were steady.

"That's all the German army needs to vanish".

Lake Springfield is Depleted by Drought

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—The drought which has plagued many central and southern Illinois farmers and victory gardeners for the last 72 days has dropped the level of Lake Springfield 2.4 feet and gulped a huge drink of over three billion gallons of water.
There's still enough water in the lake to supply Springfield and adjoining community users for three rainless years, but in some other downstate localities reservoirs are reported seriously low as demands of heavy wartime industrial consumers and farmers hauling water for livestock add to the usual large midsummer domestic uses to tax supplies.
The weather bureau says many wells in southern counties are drying up.
Lake Springfield, its 57-mile shoreline sprawling across the Sugar Creek valley southeast of Springfield to enclose a normal 21,400,000 gallons, drains moisture from a 265 square mile watershed.
In June the level dropped almost two feet and in July nearly a foot as only two of the normal 60-day rain of seven inches fell in the Springfield area. The record level decline was 3.4 in 1940.

Illinois Ordnance Plant Strike Ends

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—An eight-day work stoppage at the Illinois Ordnance plant near Carbondale ended today when dissenting union employes voted to return to their jobs. Capt. L. R. Mebine, commanding officer, said workers were recalled to the night shift.
The tie-up in production began with a walkout of organized warehousemen and truckers (AFL) in a closed shop dispute with the plant management. Approximately 1200 have been idle.

Sales Tax Reports Show Marked Gain

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—Illinois retailers' occupation (sales) tax collections for the first seven months of this year were $1,751,250 above the same period a year ago, State Treasurer William G. Stratton reported today.
The 1944 revenue through July 31 was $51,802,005 as compared with $47,046,755 in 1943. The July, 1944, collections of $7,195,488 were $482,369 over July, 1943.
Motor fuel tax income during the seven months of 1944 was $20,425,123, a jump of $1,660,771 over the 1943 period, but motor vehicle licenses declined $1,100,681 to $19,706,763.

Three Ships to be Launched Aug. 20

Philadelphia, Aug. 11—(AP)—The 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Antietam and the 13,000-ton cruisers Chicago and Los Angeles will be christened in a triple ceremony at the Philadelphia Navy yard Sunday, Aug. 20, Rear Admiral M. F. Draemel announced today.
Christening of the three fighting ships, totaling more than 53,000 displacement tons, will mark the largest launching or christening of warships at one time and place in American history and probably in the world, the Navy reported.
Both the Chicago and Los Angeles were paid for by the war bonds purchased by residents of the respective cities. The Antietam is named after the bloody battle of Antietam, Maryland, in 1862, in which 5,000 were killed and 20,000 wounded in one day.
The Chicago, third Navy vessel to bear the name, will be christened by Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, wife of Chicago's mayor. The new cruiser will replace the 10,000-tonner of the same name which was torpedoed by the Japs while convoying reinforcements to Guadalcanal in January, 1943.

Canadian General is Injured by Yank Bombs

With the Canadian First Army in France, Aug. 8—(Delayed)—(AP)—Maj. Gen. R. F. L. Keller, commander of the Canadian Third division, was wounded today when a formation of U. S. heavy bombers dropped a group of fragmentation bombs short of their mark and into the Canadian troops' area.
Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair of the U. S. Army was killed in Normandy recently under similar circumstances.
Keller was hit in the left arm and leg and also suffered a minor chest wound.
The bombs, dropped a short distance south of Caen, caused a number of casualties among personnel.

3 Drown in Illinois River Near Grafton

Grafton, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—William P. Crane, East St. Louis policeman, his wife and 13-year-old daughter, drowned yesterday in the Illinois river near Pere Marquette state park.
Other occupants of a rowboat which capsized in the wake of a cabin cruiser, were saved through the alertness of Crane's 12-year-old nephew, Francis Shillinger, who called to them to hang on to the boat. Rescued were Shillinger, Mrs. Crane's aged parents and a 11-year-old daughter of the Cranes.

Clear as Mud

Mexico City, Aug. 11—(AP)—Julian Carrillo, Mexican classical conductor, says he has invented a new musical system, and an organization called "Metropolitan Group 13" has been organized to spread and teach it.
Carrillo calls his music the "thirteenth sound system" because of his discovery of a "thirteenth sound" in music led him to a "new octave".
Each tone is divided into 16 parts instead of two, as in ordinary music, making 96 sounds in all.
In writing the music numbers from zero to 95 are used instead of note symbols. Musical instruments must be especially adapted for the music.

It is on the west side of Kyushu, about 30 miles south of the Sasebo naval base, hit by Superfortresses on July 7. Yesterday's blast at it was the third time the B-29's have hit the Japanese mainland.

TOKYO FIRE TRAP
By Morris J. Harris
(Chief of the former Associated Press bureau at Shanghai and longtime resident of Japan.)
Washington, Aug. 11—(AP)—When Tokyo's warlords begin telling the children to tear down the houses preparatory to American air raids, they know they're whipped.
"Tens of thousands of homes" in the Mikado's capital have been destroyed by Japanese school children "bringing one of the greatest levellings since the earthquake of 1923", says a Tokyo broadcast aimed at Berlin and overheard by U. S. government monitors.
Well do the Japanese see the American B-29 bomber casting its long shadow over their empire, and approaching close behind it that of the newly-born dreadnaught of the skies.
By and large Tokyo is a fire trap, notwithstanding its vaunted "modernization" since the great quake of 1923. I lived in Tokyo before the 1923 quakes, was there while they were going on and have been back since. Burning Japanese homes constituted the major damage in Tokyo from that earthquake.
So the school children have been turned into demolition crews to cut paths of open ground through the capital's closely built structures, hoping to lessen the toll American fire bombs will take when they start falling like leaves.

New Turn in

lights up, and smashed airdromes from which Japan could contest future landing attempts by allied forces.
Simultaneously with news of this new blow MacArthur announced that Japan's trapped 18th army, once 60,000 strong, had been crushingly defeated, its remnants sent fleeing into New Guinea's mountains and toward by-passed Wewak. The 18th's casualties in the last month were estimated at 18,000 dead and wounded. As an army it had disintegrated.

Guam Casualties Told
Adm. Nimitz announced last night that Guam was now restored to the U. S. Reconquest cost 1,214 American dead and 6,033 other casualties. The Japanese lost 10,971 dead and an island within superfortress range of Japan, the Philippines and China. A few enemy survivors were being dug out of caves and ravines.
This series of hard blows was capped by establishment of amphibious fleet and troop headquarters by Adm. Richmond K. Turner on Saipan, first of the Marianas islands to fall. This meant the U. S. Navy was setting up an advance base 3,000 miles west of Pearl Harbor and right in Japan's watery front yard.
Turner called the Marianas campaign "the greatest naval victory the United States ever won." That campaign breached Japan's inner defenses with the seizure of Guam Saipan and Tinian.
In the background of the quickening Pacific war stood the meeting at Pearl Harbor of President Roosevelt, Admiral Nimitz and General MacArthur. There in three days ending July 29 they mapped strategy to force Japan into unconditional surrender. It was MacArthur's first meeting with the president in seven years.
Chinese forces fought hard to retake Hengyang before the Japanese could consolidate their hold on the important rail center. In Yunnan province other Chinese whittled away at Japanese clinging to Burma Road bases.

or remnants of divisions—upwards of 300,000 men. If the sweep crossed the Seine it would threaten the isolation of Le Havre and other channel ports as well as the rocket bomb coast.

Report March on Orleans
Unofficial reports said other armored columns meanwhile had veered off to the southeast from Le Mans toward Orleans on the Loire below Paris.
(An NBC broadcast from France said Americans in this drive were attacking Chateaudun, 62 miles from Versailles and 30 miles from Orleans. Chateaudun is 52 miles east of Le Mans. The Brazzaville radio said there were reports Chartres, 37 miles from Versailles, was in allied hands, but German broadcasts denied it and there was no allied confirmation.
Combat teams made rapid progress in the Brittany peninsula to the rear, completing the capture of the Loire river cities of Nantes and Angers, and wiping out all resistance except at one stronghold, the Citadel, in St. Malo on the north coast, thus cleaning up three of the six large centers of nazi resistance on the Brittany rim.
The British renewed pressure on their end of this huge maneuver by throwing a third bridgehead across the Orne river and storming to within half a mile of Thury-Harcourt, 15 miles below Caen.
Two other powerful battering rams, set up by the Canadian First Army, were driving against Rommel's gun-studded anti-tank screen—one last reported within five miles of the German strongpoint city of Falaise, 21 miles south of Caen, and the other thrust eastward in the Vimont area below Troarn.

Artillery Opens Up
(The German communique declared today that the allied penetration southeast of Caen had been sealed off "and a coherent front line re-established." However, allied artillery fire of high intensity was reported by the enemy high command to have opened early this morning against the nazi front).
The Germans are seeking to rush reinforcements and supplies from Belgium, Germany and eastern France, but this traffic came under heavy aerial attack.
The communique said enemy resistance to the Canadian drive toward Falaise "increased considerably yesterday." It was disclosed that a Polish armored division is fighting in that sector and that the Canadian Second Infantry division, veteran of the Dieppe raid two years ago, forms part of the Canadian First Army.
On the Brittany peninsula, American forces still were besieging the big western port of Brest and the encircled submarine base of Lorient, and were battering one final nest of stand-and-die German resistance in St. Malo, on the north. The situation at St. Nazaire, the big U-boat nest in the Loire estuary, remained cloaked in official silence.

Germans Hold Out
Inside St. Malo's rocky fortress, which sheds artillery shells like a tin roof sheds hail, the German garrison stubbornly held out. A dispatch from Associated Press war correspondent Hal Boyle said that in a telephone conversation yesterday with American officers the Germans there agreed it would be foolish to fight on but added that was what they intended to do.
Some of the German soldiers, however, were reported shooting down their officers.
(The German news agency Transocean early today made the wholly unconfirmed assertion that the American Third Army is operating in Brittany "and seems to be in the hands of" Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., "an exponent of mobile warfare."
(Allied officials have announced that the American First Army is fighting in France, but never has mentioned any Third Army. Nor has there been any word of the assignment of Patton, once commander of the American Seventh Army in Sicily, since it was revealed weeks ago that he was in Britain).

Firms affected were the Farley & Loetscher Manufacturing Company; Carr, Adams & Collier Company and Metz Manufacturing Company. All have large war orders. The men are members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners (AFL).
In Detroit the CIO-United Automobile Workers arranged a mass meeting tonight in an effort to end a stoppage of 7,000 at the General Motors' Chevrolet gear and axle division. The War Labor Board after a hearing in Washington yesterday ordered the walkout ended immediately so production of aircraft engines, tanks and heavy trucks could proceed.
A new stoppage kept 1,500 idle at four plants of the Warner Gear Co., Muncie, Ind.
The status quo continued in more than a score of other disputes keeping at least 23,000 idle.

Continuous

Saluda, N. C., Aug. 11—(AP)—The man who kept alive for 60 years a fire started by his ancestors 150 years ago in an open fireplace is dead at the age of 84.
The keeper of the flame, William Morris, died yesterday in a Tryon hospital. A bachelor, he was the last direct descendant of Robert Morris of Philadelphia, who migrated to the Blue Ridge mountains in 1780 and started the blaze that has burned continuously since.
Before going to the hospital, Morris left the fire in the care of Hampton Owens, a nephew.

land far out in the Pacific.
The persistent Nipponese hunted him like an animal; finally detailing a 50-man patrol. Capture, often near, would have meant death.
Behind him were burning memories of Navy and Marine friends who died, without retreat, in the stubborn but hopeless first defense of the island. He was sustained by the constant hope of rescue by advancing American forces.

Story Released by Navy
The story he told after his rescue July 10, was released to the United States almost coincidentally with announcement that recapture of Guam had been completed.
Tweed had seen proud, cruel, vindictive Japanese forces rolling to victory past his buddies' bodies. The conquerors' final remnants were ragged and emaciated; fleeing instead of fighting back.
Reinstated in the U. S. Navy and promoted from radioman first class aboard the rescue ship, Tweed was returned to the United States. He was reunited in San Diego, Calif., with his wife, Mary Francis Tweed, 27, and their sons, Ronald, 9, and Robert, 3. They had not seen him since October, 1941, when they left Guam.
"It was a glorious reunion", said Mrs. Tweed, adding she never doubted that her husband would return, although after two years' searching the Japanese had listed him officially as dead.

Mother Doesn't Know Him
Later they visited Mrs. Tweed's mother, Mrs. W. H. Sudderth of Santa Paula, Calif., who said experience had aged Tweed so much she did not recognize him.
During his ordeal the Portland, Ore., Navy man's hair silvered and he lost 30 pounds. He gained back 10 of these in the first five days after his rescue, by a combatant ship off Guam, 10 days before the American landings. An American pilot previously had spotted him standing near the remote cave where he spent the latter part of his hermitage. He lived on rainwater and food obtained in night forays.
Tweed said the Japanese landed on Guam December 9, after two days' bombing and strafing.
"We had so few guns, so little ammunition", he said, "There wasn't much we could do to defend. We had only about 200 Marines, a few scattered naval personnel and the island defense company".

Exhausted Ammunition
The Marines on Cabras island, a narrow strip of land off the harbor, armed only with machine guns actually repulsed the Japs until their ammunition gave out.
"A couple of one-pound guns on ships in the harbor fired to the last, while a single machine gun on Agana Heights, above the town—the only 'antiaircraft' battery we had—exhausted its ammunition".
Tweed said the Japanese forced a landing and shot their way into Agana, against the street-by-street, house-by-house opposition of Marines.
With a buddy, Tweed escaped to the "bush", after the American governor ordered surrender on the third day.
The Japanese warned that all Americans who gave themselves up within 30 days would be interned in Japan; others found later would be killed.
Tweed's companion and three other navy men they met all were captured and killed by the Japanese.
"Several times they learned where I was hiding, but each time I managed to escape, once by less than a minute", Tweed said.
Tweed was dressed in Robinson Crusoe rags when rescued, but soon changed to a new chief radioman's uniform.

The War Today

when it came to the show-down in East Prussia the Kaiser sent for the "Old Man of the Lakes" as the only general who knew that region.
Well now, the Russians once more are driving against the East Prussian border east of the Insterburg Gap, and the Hitlerites have been counter-attacking with a ferocity which in itself is recognition of the possibility that the Red army is trying to reach that strategic gateway. At the same time we get the Russian flanking movement along the southern border, southeast of Tannenberg.

It's and intriguing picture, but in calling attention to the similarity I'm not suggesting that the Red generals are bent on duplication of the strategy of their World war predecessors. There may be trickery afoot. Anyway, we needn't worry for fear the Muscovites don't know the perils of the lake country.
The greatest danger to the Hitlerites in this situation, as I see it lies in that flanking movement below East Prussia. Such a Red drive would flank not only the East Prussian cockpit but Warsaw to the south.
It would be a happy coincidence—and one that could happen—if Warsaw and Paris fell at the same time. What a staggering blow for Der Fuehrer!

One of these other operations, Nimitz has already said, will be a drive to the coast of China to open up a port and supply route to the Chinese armies. It would appear that this must await at least the partial conquest of the Philippines and establishment of a secure base.

Browns Capture 10 in Row; N. Y. Yanks Drop Into Fourth

Denny Galehouse Shuts Out McCarthymen 3-0 on Six Singles

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe McCarthy's "World Champions" rested in fourth place today, 9½ games back and no longer a threat to St. Louis' bid for its first American league pennant unless the age of miracles is just around the corner.

When Denny Galehouse shut out the New Yorkers with six singles yesterday, 3-0, allowing only one man to reach second base, he drained most of the hope from the Yankee fans who had banked on a clean sweep or at least 3 out of 4 from the Brownies to put them back in the running.

It was the Browns' 10th straight victory, the longest string in the league this year, topping their sensational opening spurt by one, and protected their 6½ game margin on second place Boston.

New York skeptics who had waited for St. Louis to pull the accordion act, were convinced Luke Sewell's talented crew was the most consistent club in the circuit and headed for a world series cut. Talk was that the series slices might not be as generous as usual because of the limited capacity of Sportsman's Park but they will be juicy enough for the Brownies who never had a taste.

Galehouse, just rounding into form after a late start as a "Sunday" pitcher on part time from a defense plant, captured his fifth straight and first whitewash job at the expense of Ernie Bonham, No. 2 Yank ace.

Red Sox Stay Hot

Boston remained hot for the weekend St. Louis series by taking a second straight from Chicago, 2-1, behind Emmett O'Neil.

Detroit shouldered New York out of third place by trimming Washington in a night game, 3-2. Dizzy Trout had to travel 10 innings for his 18th win, tying Hal Newhouser and Tex Hughson.

Myril Hoag's single scoring Russ Peters in the ninth gave Joe Heving his seventh victory and Cleveland a 5-4 shade over Philadelphia.

Mort Cooper lifted the St. Louis Cards 18½ games out in front of the National league with their 74th victory in 101 games by shutting out the Phils, 2-0, on Whitey Kurowski's 13th homer with Ray Sanders on base in the fourth. Red Barrett hurled the third scoreless game of the day by outpointing Bucky Walters for Boston's 2-0 margin over Cincinnati.

Tom Warren's pinch single with the bases loaded scored two winning runs in the 10th inning in Brooklyn's 6-4 victory over Chicago as the Cubs missed a chance to regain fourth when New York bowed to Pittsburgh, 10-4.

Marines Get Further Toughening Courses

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 11 — (AP)—The Marines who captured Guadalcanal, Tarawa, the Marshalls, Saipan and Guam were rugged, but the corps believes Leathernecks training for future actions against the Japanese may be even sturdier.

Camp Pendleton announced today that 14 hours have been added to weekly field work for the Devil Dogs. The additional time will be devoted to judo, bayonet fighting, knife and club battles and hand-to-hand combat.

Iowa's Seahawks, Navy preflight outfit from Iowa City, Ia., methodically cut down Shick Hospital of Clinton Wednesday evening 12 to 0. An overflow crowd of 4,000 was on hand for the festivities.

Shick, leading team in the Clinton Industrial loop, didn't have a chance as Ed Weiland, erstwhile White Sox' hurler, twirled four-hit ball, fanning 10. Outfielder Ned Harris, formerly of Detroit, starred at bat, blasting a pair of triples, a double and a single.

Frank McElyea, Shick's major-leaguer, was held hitless in three apperances. Shortstop Lou Rochelli of the Seahawks, who is to join the Brooklyn Dodgers today upon his release from the Navy, collected one hit, committing one error.

A big double-header of baseball has been scheduled for Sunday's fans at Reynolds field. Freeman's, now under new management, will try again to pull out of their losing streak, meeting Compton at 1 o'clock. Dixon's Knacks and Hal Wheat's Prophetstown Prophets will meet in the second encounter, which has been tentatively set for 3 o'clock.

Meanwhile, Frank Casselman's GROP squad, with Guard Jack Sharkey in the line-up, will journey to West Brooklyn for a tussle with Malach & Co. Having a record of two wins and three defeats, the Ordnance plant boys promise to refute their play of last Sunday and capture their third victory.

In a recent game between Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Crocker, Mo., the Crocker hurler whiffed nine men in one inning—the regular Crocker catcher had been injured, leaving the game, and his substitute missed six third strikes, the batter reaching first base safely each time.

Although the Dixon Knacks do not pretend to possess great players, which no club can boast of in a war year, they do have a strong mound corps. Ralph "Doc" Eloyer (the fellow with the handsome mustache below) is the anchor of the staff, which also numbers Went Frey and Harold Prestegaard.

Doc is a veteran of many years of diamond activity, serving with Class D league teams and playing salaried ball. Born in Schaller, Ia., he began to take up the game when only a freshie in high school and oddly enough, he has always been a pitcher.

Among the teams Doc has competed with are Sioux City, S. D., a Class D member, Sac City, Ia., a salaried team, Sioux City, Ia., a member of the Western League (Class D), Zion, Ill., and Clinton's Bridge Works, a team in that city's Industrial League. He also had a try-out with the St. Louis Cardinals, being turned down because he tipped the beam at only 140 pounds. (He now weighs 186).

So far this year, Doc has turned in excellent work, his effort last Sunday being top-flight. Also, his mound work against the tough Howe's All-Stars was very effective as he permitted only three runs in 17 innings losing 2 to 0 and tieing 1 to 1.

Darnley made this time,a record for Good Time park, in the first heat of the $3,550 trotting derby. He finished fifth as Scotland's Comet won the second heat, but came back to win the final in 2:02 flat.

Youth Plays Age Today in Western Women's Amateur

Chicago, Aug. 11— (AP) — A challenge to youth was thrown into the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament today by Mrs. H. M. Sims, mother of a 16-months-old daughter.

Making a comeback in major tournament golf after winning the Minnesota state title in 1941, Mrs. Sims was willing to give her age as 32. The former St. Paul star, now living in Evanston, Ill., entered the semi-final round of the prestige-filled, time-honored Western Amateur meet against 20-year-old Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, the defending champion.

The other match sent 21-year-old Georgia Tainter of Fargo, N. D., winner of the 1940 Western Junior crown and a semi-finalist in the 1941 Western Amateur, against 20-year-old Phyllis Otto of Omaha, Neb. Miss Otto, runner-up in the 1942 Western Open, has played Miss Tainter three times in major tournaments and has lost only once.

Wins in 21 Holes

Mrs. Sims advanced to the semi-final round yesterday by beating Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., a semi-finalist last year, 1-up in 21 holes—the longest match of the meet. Miss Germain moved up with a 6 and 5 win over Betty Jean Rucker of Spokane, Wash.

Miss Tainter had the best card of the day in defeating medalist Sally Sessions of Muskegon, Mich. She was only one over par when she ended the competition on the 16th green, 3 and 2. Miss Otto, who plans to enter Stanford university in January, disposed of Mary Jane Garman of Hammond, Ind., 5 and 4.

Today Miss Otto and Miss Tainter tee off at 1:30 p. m. (CWT) and Miss Germain and Mrs. Sims at 2 p. m.

Super "Iron Man" Stars in Hawaii

San Francisco, Aug. 11—(AP) In Honolulu there's a one-man gang to end all one-man gangs. For 27-year-old Walter Gouveia is an iron man who makes other iron men's metal look like a cheap alloy.

War correspondents Dick Bergholz and Eugene Burns write of this super-duper performer, this plantation worker who ranks as one of Hawaii's finest athletes. Here's their account of one of Gouveia's busy days:

"First, he ran a five-mile race. He spotted his seven competitors a two-minute advantage and finished almost a quarter-mile in front.

Gets Into Ball Game

"As he crossed the finish line, the plantation baseball team was warming up for a game with a Navy nine. Gouveia jumped into a ball suit, joined his teammates and walloped a homer to aid in an 8 to 1 win.

"Then came the main event. Functioning as a one-man volleyball team, Gouveia defeated a regulation six-man Pacific Fleet school team, 15-2, 15-7.

"Just to prove to the Navy sextet and the 4,000 spectators that his victories weren't luck, Gouveia took on the vanquished Navy team in a third match but this time used only one hand. He won, 15-9."

Mind you, folks, all this took place in a single afternoon, one event following the other.

Japanese-American Sisters Convicted in Conspiracy Case

Denver, Aug. 11—(AP)—Three Japanese-American sisters accused of helping two German prisoners escape from internment camp were convicted by a U. S. District court jury today of conspiracy to commit treason, and were acquitted of treason charges.

Judge J. Foster Symes withheld imposition of sentence, which, under the law, may not exceed two years in prison and $10,000 fine. If they had been convicted of treason the penalty could have been death.

Defense Attorney Kenneth W. Robinson said he had not determined whether to seek a new trial or whether he would appeal.

Show No Emotion

The defendants—Mrs. Tsuruko "Toots" Wallace, 35; Mrs. Florence "Flo" Shivze Otani, 33, and Mrs. Billie Shitara Tanigoshi, 32—exhibited no emotion when the verdict, reached by an all man jury last night and then sealed, was read in court this morning.

In the other two treason cases of this war, Max Stephan, naturalized German of Detroit, was sentenced to hang for aiding in the escape of a nazi flier interned in Canada. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. In the other, three Chicago couples—relatives and friends of one of eight German saboteurs spirited onto the Atlantic coast by submarine—were convicted of treason, but the verdicts were reversed. In a retrial, one defendant was convicted again.

In the Denver trial the government accused the sisters of furnishing maps, clothing and aid to Heinrich Haider and Herman August Loescher in their flight from the Trinidad, Colo., internment camp last Oct. 16.

Death Lurks Behind French Hedges

Photo above is graphic illustration of one of the deadliest threats to American fighters in France—the high hedges which Frenchmen use to line roads and to separate farms and fields as American farmers use line fences. Advancing soldiers encounter a constant succession of these and never can tell when they may hide entrenched Germans or machine gun traps. Photo, taken near St. Lo, shows Yanks on alert for snipers, who have already killed the soldier whose body lies behind man at left.

State Corn Crop Estimate Revised by Heavy Drought

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11—(AP)—The state-federal agriculture departments today forecast this year's Illinois corn crop 415,000,000 bushels, representing a cut of over three per cent from last month's prediction, and estimated state crop losses from drought and insects, concentrated chiefly in corn, at about $40,000,000 during the last 41 days.

The new corn estimate is a drop of 14,000,000 bushels from the July 1 forecast of 429,000,000 which would have been the fourth largest on record and about 2,000,000 higher than last year.

Chief Statistician A. J. Surratt said the crop loss during July was estimated at $20,000,000 but this probably has doubled during the first 11 days of an almost rainless August.

About 85 per cent of all losses were attributed directly to drought.

7 Per Cent Loss

The $40,000,000 loss represents about seven per cent of the estimated $600,000,000 prospective crop values to farmers as of Aug. 1.

Indicated soybean production was placed at 67,158,000 bushels as compared with last year's 70,602,000 bushels.

"Soybeans have suffered relatively less from drought than corn," said the report, "although in considerable part this is due to their less general distribution. Soybean prospects on four-fifths of the state acreage should produce near average yields if good rains are received by mid-August.

"Yields per acre and quality of small grains are up to average or better, excepting the oats crop which varies from poor to good."

The first estimate of this year's corn yield per acre was 45.5 bushels, compared with a final 1943 yield of 50.0 and the 10-year average of 40.4.

Indicated production for other leading Illinois crops with 1943 production in parenthesis:

Other Crop Estimates

Winter wheat 25,461,000 bu. (16,665,000); oats 98,979,000 bu. (113,091,000); barley 1,632,000 bu. (2,002,000); rye 875,000 bu. (682,000); tame hay 3,496,000 tons (3,227,000); potatoes 1,824,000 bu. (2,170,000); broomcorn 3,800 tons (5,200); commercial apples 2,542,000 bu. (2,790,000); peaches 1,386,000 bu. (400,000); and pears 329,000 bu. (232,000).

Other indicated yields per acre with the 1943 final yields and the 10-year (1935-42) averages respectively in parenthesis:

Winter wheat 20.5 bu., (16.5) (17.8); spring wheat 20.0, (19.5) (16.4); oats 31.0 bu., (33.0) (32.9); barley 25.5 bu., (22.0) (21.9); rye 12.5 bu., (11.0) (12.3); tame hay 1.38 tons, 1.28) (1.28); potatoes 57 bu. (62) (78); and broomcorn 580 pounds (585) (486).

Milk production showed slightly less than the seasonable decline for July in spite of the rapid decline in pasture feed.

Egg production at 218,000,000 eggs was a high record for July.

The report said the early and favorable harvest season "has eased the farm labor situation considerably".

Government Shifts Plane Output to Superfortresses

Most Aircraft Used in Europe to be Superceded by B-29s, B-32s

Washington, Aug. 11—(AP)—The government focused aircraft production on Japan instead of Germany today, in a major shift which will release an estimated 120,000 aircraft workers by the end of this year.

Downward trends over the next 12 months were set for Liberator bombers, C-46 transports and Thunderbolt fighters, coinciding with growing emphasis on the new aerial scourges of Japan—the big Boeing B-29 which slammed again yesterday at the Japanese, and its new sister, the Consolidated B-32.

Twenty thousand persons will be released in the next 30 days, the War Department estimated in ordering the cutback yesterday, and 34,000 aircraft jobs are waiting to absorb them.

Successes of the European invasion set the aircraft shift in motion, it was learned. The action was planned last May, but was held up until the advance into Fortress Europe and the impotence of the Luftwaffe demonstrated that the aircraft industry could safely be aimed at the Japanese empire.

Only one major casualty occurred among the aircraft makers. Higgins Aircraft, Inc., of New Orleans, was stopped short in its contract for 50 "Commando" cargo planes monthly before any were delivered. The first C-46 was expected this month.

Contract Cancelled

This repeated the experience of the Higgins Industries with Liberty ships in 1942. The contract was cancelled, said to be for want of steel, before a keel was laid.

In New Orleans, Andrew J. Higgins, head of the Higgins Industries, said in a statement that the company had been told "to be in readiness for some other activity." Higgins said he had been advised that the war department's action was "not so much cancellation, but a rearrangement," and added it was likely that the present staff of 6,500 workers "may not be decreased, but possibly increased."

Cancellation of the C-46 contract, he reported, did not affect the company's $10,000,000 sub-contract with Curtis-Wright for the construction of wing panels, which the Higgins company has been producing for several months.

In three Curtiss-Wright plants producing the Commando transport—St. Louis, Buffalo and Louisville—production will rise for the rest of this year, with 1945 schedules tapering off.

To Wipe Out Liberators

Liberator bombers will gradually be wiped out of production at North America's plant in Dallas, and will be pared down at Ford's great Willow Run plant and the Consolidated-Vultee operation at San Diego.

"The B-24 is being replaced in considerable part by the much heavier B-29 and B-32," said the cutback announcement, released by the Office of War Information. The San Diego plant will turn to the B-32, a super-bomber whose characteristics still are secret but which was designed as a running mate to the B-29s which already have successful raids on Japanese targets to their credit.

Shifts of aircraft sub-contracts from Akron, O., and Southern California will take place to relieve what was described as acute labor shortages there. The sub-contracts in unannounced volume, will be shifted to Evansville, Ind., and Dallas, respectively, to provide jobs for surplus workers there.

Production of the P-47 Thunderbolt by North American at Evansville will be reduced in an amount "not fully determined," it was stated.

Old Age Insurance; Some Questions on Plan Are Answered

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 11—(AP)—Many men and women, close to 65 years of age or older, are working now but when the war ends some will want to quit and others will continue working

Because all of them must be thinking of old age insurance—as something they will be glad to get or don't need—here are some questions and answers:

Q When a person reaches 65, does the government automatically start payments A No. He has to file a claim with the nearest social security office in writing or person.

Q. If a man reaches 65 and starts drawing insurance benefits does his wife get any. A Yes When she reaches 65 she also will receive a benefit It will be half of her husband's benefit. If he receives $20 monthly, she will receive $10, or a total of $30 for the pair of them.

Y. Can a man who is over 65 and has gone back to work continue to receive old age benefits?

A. That depends on the kind of work he chooses and how much he makes If he goes into the kind of work covered by the social security law he still can receive his old age insurance but only if he is not earning on the job more than $14.99 a month.

If he goes into the kind of work not covered by the law, he can continue receiving his insurance no matter how much he earns on the job

Factory and commercial jobs—as examples—are covered by the law And only people who have worked in covered jobs receive old age insurance.

Non-Covered Workers

Non-covered workers include farmers domestic servants, federal, state or local government employes, those in non-profit organizations, and people who work for themselves. They receive no insurance when they reach 65 if they have remained in that kind of work since the law went into effect Jan. 1, 1937

Q If a man who has been receiving old age insurance goes back to a job in "covered" employment and earns more than $15—thus forfeiting his insurance—is he ever entitled to benefits again?

A. Yes When he stops working his old age insurance will be resumed But, in order to get those payments again he must notify the nearest social security office, when he stops working.

Q. Is the size of a person's old age insurance increased if he goes back to work after he has once started receiving benefits?

A. No Under the law, the amount of a worker's benefits can not be recalculated because of additional wages earned and additional social security taxes paid after he has once started receiving payments

Entirely Federal Project

Q Do the men and women in the armed services get credit for the time spent and the money earned while they are in the service

A Military service is not covered employment. Congress has so far done nothing for military personnel on this point

Old age insurance benefits are not to be confused with aid given needy people over 65 They are not the same.

The worker in covered employment has paid out of his regular earnings toward the insurance he gets when he retires at 65. His employer has had to pay an amount equal to the worker's share. This money is handled by the federal government and is entirely a federal project.

Americans Give All Time Record Sum to Paralysis Fund

Announcing that the American people had contributed an all-time record of $10,973,491 to the 1944 fund-raising appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Basil O'Connor, Foundation president, declared last night that these donations will permit an expansion of the war against the children's enemy on the home front.

With epidemics or serious outbreaks now taking their toll in twelve of the states of the nation, Mr O'Connor pointed out that the number of cases reported is already higher than for the comparable period last year when the country suffered its third worst epidemic

Mr. O'Connor said the National Foundation would now be able to add more epidemic fighters and additional equipment for emergency aid and at the same time, continue its relentless fight to learn how to prevent and cure the disease.

"Funds from the 1944 March of Dimes", he continued, will permit the National Foundation not only to expand its aid to those who are stricken but also to open up new fronts of research which someday will pierce the defense of this disease and permit us to prevent it.

'Dimes Are at Work

"Already 1,160,000 dimes are at work in the state of North Carolina where representatives of the National Foundation work day and night with state and local authorities to provide emergency aid, professional workers and equipment to meet the epidemic situation"

Dimes and dollars contributed by Americans also are at work in Kentucky, New York, Louisiana, Pennsylvania Virginia, Tennessee, Ohio, Michigan, Maryland Mississippi and Indiana where there are serious or threatening outbreaks, he added

'We have no way of knowing how far the danger will spread, nor how many homes will suffer tragedy before this year's epidemic subsides," warned Mr O Connor, adding "but we do know that we have never before been so well equipped to meet the ravages of infantile paralysis as we are this year."

This year's donations almost doubled the former record of $5,527,590 set in 1943, Mr. O'Connor said, and the total comprised millions of small donations indicating that "almost every person in this country has had some part in creating the means of carrying on this mighty crusade.

From Army and Navy bases half way around the world came donations from the brave fighters in our armed services", said Mr. O'Connor, which he considers "a mandate to us here at home not to neglect the fight against this home-front enemy while they are battling our foes abroad"

Mr. O'Connor praised the cooperation of the film industry, movie patrons, the sports world, the press, radio, war workers, school children, labor, industry and "Mr. and Mrs. America in every conceivable station of life who aided in this vital movement."

One-half of the funds raised each January through the celebrations of the president's birthday is retained by the 3,000 county chapters for aid to those stricken with poliomyelitis; the other half goes to the National Foundation for its program of research, epidemic aid and education.

Must Conquer Our Long-Time Hates States Henry Ford

Big Bay, Mich., Aug. 11.—(AP)—One of the major post war tasks, according to Henry Ford, will be to level off the far-reaching hatreds that have been created by the present world conflict.

The noted industrialist took time out from a vacation with Mrs. Ford at his summer lodge on the nearby Lake Superior shore to comment upon the progress of the war and the steps that must be taken to make it the last war.

"There can be no lasting peace where hatreds exist," he said, and added that "hatreds will continue to arise as long as the causes of war are not rooted out and exposed.

"Remember that this war was not brought on by men who work for their living. It was caused by the individuals—many of them unfortunately citizens of our own country—who profit from the manufacture of munitions and explosives.

"And mark this well, until these individuals are exposed, there can be no peace—only another armistice. By exposing them I mean making them so well known that every school child can identify them by name and tell their purposes.

Must Uproot Philosophies

"If another Hitler comes into power after this war it will be because the war mongers have not been ousted and want another war; because this war with its terrific cost was fought solely for the benefit of the munitions makers and not for the preservation of democracy."

Ford said he did not believe it would be necessary to dismember Germany after the war in order to prevent another conflict.

"Get rid of the militarists and the German people can live in peace with the rest of the world," he said. "But you can't get rid of the saber rattlers by cutting them off at the top; you will have to root out the philosophies that create them."

The war, Ford said, had proved very definitely that the problems of one people are the problems of all others—"whether he be Jew, Gentile, Mohammedan or Oriental."

"These problems are going to be common problems," he went on. "And we are going to have to live together as good neighbors, helping one another and expecting help from one another. Only on that basis can a safe, peaceful future of the world be expected."

Survey of Crippled Children Will Take Place at Rockford

The sixth crippled children's clinic to be held in Rockford this year will be conducted on Thursday, August 17, at St. Anthony's hospital, according to an announcement made today by Lawrence J. Linck, Director of the Division of Service for Crippled Children. The clinic is conducted cooperatively by the Division of Services for Crippled Children, the Rockford Visiting Nurse Association, the Winnebago County Medical Society, and the American Legion. Examinations of orthopedically crippled children, children in need of plastic surgery, and children in need of speech rehabilitation will take place during the day with the examination starting at 9:00 a. m.

Invitations to attend the clinic have been sent to many children residing in the territory surrounding Rockford, although it is not absolutely necessary to have an invitation in order to be given an examination. Any child under 21 years of age, who is orthopedically crippled, or in need of plastic surgery, or diagnostic speech services, may attend the clinic upon referral by his family or local physician. Territory served by this clinic includes the following counties: Boone, Carroll, DeKalb, JoDaviess, Lee, McHenry, Ogle, Whiteside, and Winnebago.

Doctor Rudolph J. Mirez will be the examining orthopodist, while Doctor Homer Weir will be the attending pediatric physician. Miss Iva Hensel, Orthopedic Field Nurse for the Rockford district, Miss Hedwig B. Trauba, Supervisor of Orthopedic Nursing, and Miss Jayne Shover, Supervisor of Speech Rehabilitation, all members of the staff of the Division of Services for Crippled Children, will be present to assist with the conduct of the clinic, as will nurses of the Rockford Visiting Nurse Association.

Is Large Clinic

Mr. Linck stated that the Rockford clinic is a large one, with upwards of 70 children ordinarily being given examination at each one. Those responsible for holding the clinic hope to make it possible for every crippled child in this area, regardless of their parents' financial condition, to be examined by an outstanding medical doctor who specializes in treating crippling conditions. Recommendations for such hospitalization, surgery, physiotherapy, x-ray, medical consultation, artificial limbs, braces, or other treatment as may be required for each individual child will be made by the clinicians.

It was further stated by Mr. Linck that more than fifty boys and girls who have been patients of the Division of Services for Crippled Children have recovered from their crippling conditions either completely or sufficiently enough to enable them to be acceptable for the military forces of our country. Many have seen overseas service and one has been reported as having made the supreme sacrifice, having died for his country in line of duty. A large number of former patients are working in war plants, factories, agriculture, transportation, etc., while many others are doing Red Cross and similar war-supporting work.

For further details or additional information concerning the services rendered by the Division of Services for Crippled Children, write to Lawrence J. Linck, Director, 1105 South Sixth Street, Springfield, Illinois.
